Bradley's Patent Enamel Paint!

MADE FROM

Pure White Lead, Linseed Oil and Zinc, and Always Ready for Use.

READ THE FOLLOWING TESTIMONIALS:

From Prot. W. G. Simmons, Wake Porest College, North Carolina. Mr. C. P. Knight - Dear Str.: We have for several months been using your Bradley's Patent L namel Patiation our College Building, and are well pleased with it. Though it was applied by one having no experience in such work, yet we have a good job. We shall continue to assist believing that in point of economy, durability and facility of application, it is superior to any other pigment offered in the market.

W. G. SIMMONS.

From Messrs, Engelhard & Saunders, Editors and Proprietors Journal. Wilkington, N. C., December, 26, 1873.

We desire to call especial attention to the advertisement of "Bradley's Patent Enamed Paint." We can recommend it from a knowledge of its merits, some of the employees of this office having purchassed some of this paint from Mr. C. P. Knight, of Ba timore, have us dit and speak in the highest terms of it, after a trial of several months. While it is as qurable as ordinary paint, it has a much fine finish, and its cost and convenience will recommend it to all in need of paint.

From S. McGill, M. D.

THE PLAINS, FAQUIER Co., VA., Feb. 6, 1873. Mr. C. P. Knight—Hir: The paint came safe to hand as ordered, 2 kegs, 5 gallons each, and 3 buckets, I gallon each. As practice was slack, I dld the job myself. Two weeks (not constant work) completed the house, two c. ats; the last coat I applied thick, and it is now generally conceded that, for "enamel," like hardness, and body and harmony of colors, there is not a handsomer j bin the piace. I nave saved sixty-five dollars by the operation—which is an item just now with the Southern people. It should be generally ad pted in this state. Any country lad can apply it. I have neve dabled in such stock as "t-stimonials," but I feel so for-thly the great adaptability of your "Emamel Paint" to the wants of our people—in excellency of material, in ceanty of color, and in the fact of its being "ready mixed," that I give you permission (if it is cestrable to you) to make what use you thin a proper of this letter.

Very respectfully and truly.

S. M. GILL M. D.

Always endy for use and easily applied. Sold by the gallon. One gallon covers twenty square yards two coats.

The cotton choppers were out ex-perimenting on R. G. Dunn's farm again yesterday evening. Mr. Carter B. Harrison made a test for the first time, of the chopper invented by himself. While our space in this issue will not admit of a full description of his machine, yet we will state that it was the opinion of those that witnessed its operations that it can be made to do the work. It is much more expensive than either the Reams or Diamond, and requires two horses to run it, being on four wheels with drivers seat, umbrella attachment, &c Mr. Reams exhibited his machine, the operations of which gave universal satisfaction.

Summer Resort. A News reporter who has just re-turned from a visit to the Sea Shore

Fancy has done much towards painting the beauties of our Western districts, and imagination has not been slow in depicturing in as glowing colors the loveliness and beauty of our mountains, as grand and as majestic as they are and invested with much that's romantic and attractive. Often are their praises says:

Ocean. It derives its name from the fact that many years ago, when our State had not long emerged from infancy, an old settler wandered up and down the beach, in the dead hours of night, with a lantern tied to the head of an old horse, a "nag" of which he had long been the possessor. This light was visible a long distance out at sea and ships passing by, perhaps having lost their reckoning, and not suspecting the trap, would venture near to the light, become stranded upon the reefs and shoals near by and fall an easy prey to the well laid plans of this sole denizen of the country around. As before said, Nags Head embraces neck of land extending many miles up and down the coast, and varying in width from half to three miles, though the sea side resort of Nags Head, in common parlance, has an area of only miles and is a half mile in width, or from Ocean to Sound. Its one side is washed by the waters of the broad Atlantic, from whence there ever springs a delightful breeze to temper the heat of a noonday sun; whilst on its other is the Albemarle Sound, still beautiful and lovely and giving additional effect to the already attractive spot. The hotel, together with three or four cottages, is on the "Sound side," which may be called "the place" proper; whilst on the "Ocean side" are erected a number of private cottages, for Summer use only, arranged in a row within a few feet of the ocean, and which nearly make up a small town themselves. The people are sociable, and different from what are generally found at summer resorts, not given to pomp or pride, unfettered by the chains of rules of a Chesterfield, and leave nothing undone to render one's visit pleasant and agreeable.

The surf bathing is delightful, to be appreciated only when realized, and at 11 o'clock in the morning, far large parties engaged in this healthy amusement, precenting a picture of unalloyed pleasure. Ere long the bathers emerge from the watery element, generally nap a few hours away, and donning new attire, are seen driving on the beach, two or four or one in hand, almost making old Ocean itself resound with praises and almost attracting the old sea god himself from his watery realm to the surface above to wave his magic wand, in approval, over the lively, joyous scene. In the evening, parties or "sociables" are given at the different houses, (many of which I attended,) the fair goddess honors the occasion with her presence, and all things pass off "as merry as a marriage bell."

The gunning and fishing is all that could be desired, and fully capable of satisfying the desires of all amateur or professional sportsmen.

During the season there were many visitors at the place, all pleased, all lavish in their praises and all left impressed with the truth, that its a mistaken idea for the pleasure or health seekers to think that comfort and enjoyment, during the comfort and enjoyment, during the hot season, can be found only in a higher latitude or amongst the moun-

EXPERIMENTAL COTTON CHOP-PING.—As per announcement Mr. Reams, with his cotton chopper and cultivator, was promptly on the spot named, the farm of R. G. Dunn, Esq., Thursday evening, where cot-ton had been planted for a practical test of that, and such other machines and secretary to take a band. Mr. Unas desired to take a hand. Mr. Underwood, the patentee of the Dia-mond Cotton Chopper, was also pre-sent with his machine. Both were put to work and both done the work as far as we could see, that they claim. As to which of the two performed the best work the farmers present must say. We are no "furmer," therefore our opinion can be dispursed" with. There will be a test of the various cotton choppers on the Fair grounds during Fair week, when a committee will be appointed to repor' upon the same. Till then we suppend our judgment.

Josh McGowan made an assault upon one Jane Ferrill, for which offence he was required to hand over $10 and costs, but tailing to comply with the demand, was sent on to the Superior Court, giving bond in the sum of $100. A Mrs. Flowers was arraigned for keeping a disorderly house in that delectable part of the city known as East Hayti, but the evidence being insufficient, she was discharged. Thus ended the day's doings at the Mayor's morning levee.

THE NATIONAL HOTEL.—We are glad to know that this house, under its present able management, is in creasing in popular favor. Col. ANOTHER RUNAWAY FROM CARE-ANOTHER RUNAWAY FROM CARE-LESSNESS.—Yesterday about 20'clock, the team of Maj. A. G. Lee, ran away on Cabarrus street, striking the town pump at Tupper's Church, demolish-ing that, and killing, for an hour or two a little girl, Belle Stewart, who two a little girl, Belle Stewart, who was getting water at the pump. The wagon is said to have been a wreck. This reckless runaway was caused by the driver leaving the team standing in the street. We believe there is a city ordinance making it a fine of five dollars for leaving a horse or team standing in the street, and if we had a good city government, the law might be enforced and these dangerous runaways less frequent. Here the life of an innocent child has been put in peril through the criminality of the Mayor and City Commissioners.

The NEWS contained in its local columns a few days ago a statement to the effect that one E. S. Wallace had made a report of the sanitary condition of the city to the Mayor etc. We learn from a member of the Board of City Commissioners, that no E. S. Wallace or any other man has any legal authority to examine into, or report upon the sanitary condition of the city. That it is the duty of the Commissioners to elect a sanitary officer, and not the perogative of the Mayor to appoint. We make this statement by authority, in order that all parties aggrieved by said report may know their rights and "knowing dare maintain them."

Too LATE.—The way men put off important matters to the iest moment is one of the curious things in nature. The fifth concert in aid of the Public Library of Kentucky was advertised to take place July 31. The day after, August 1, Governor Bramlette, the manager at Louisville, received over $50,000 for tlekets. Had the drawing taken place at that time the Governor would have had to send this money back, but as the concert was postponed to November 30, it was all right with them. We presume that on the first day of December next, the day after the concert, thousands of dollars will be received one day too late, for there will be no further postponement. This money might just as well have been sent a week before, as when it was. it was, sept 25-deod&wlw

HITHERTO, in the history of the government, the law adviser of the President has been, in all cases, the conservator of the peace and the defender of the principles upon which the government was founded. In Attorney General WILLIAMS, howlent partisan, he has seemed to think himself called to the Cabinet rather to justify any usurpation upon which the President might determine, rather than to furnish that officer with deliberate, non-partisan opinions upon the many grave and delicate questions, which should arise.

A few days since, it happened that a correspondent of the New York Tribune had occasion to telegraph from Washington that the Attorney General had nothing to report from Louisiana, requiring the interference of the general government. Almost immediately following this announcement was the statement that a committee of citizens of Bayou Sara had waited upon General Emory asking protection against the negroes, who had risen and threatened the white citizens with murder. No notice was taken of this request by the Satrap, who rules at Washington. No telegrams flashing over the wires, instructing General Emory to use the force of the government for the protection of citizens, whose property and lives were imperilled. There was no movement of United States troops to Bayou Sara. Why? The difference was that the people whose lives were endangered were not in political sympathy with the Attorney General, and their votes would not be east, in any election that might be held, as the authorities at Washington might desire.

The truth is the government at Washington is a mere political machine, run in the interest of the Republican party. Any little outbreak magnified into the productions of a rebellion; but people of the loyal color are at liberty to commit any excess and the evil is credited to "loyal eccentricity," which is readily pardoned and condoned by the Federal authorities.

We advise our people to do their duty to their State and country; to commit no wrong and violate no law and thus afford to our enemies no pretext for misjudging their motives or their acts.

THE Wilmington Journal of Friday has a communication from New York signed "Southerner," warning our people against the proposed National Convention which the New York Kerald has been advocating for several weeks past. We have always supposed the motives which induced the Herald so suddenly and ardently to espouse the cause of the South in the late difficulties, but the explanation of "Southerner" furnishes a safe and ready solution of the matter. His explanation is that the Herald, in advocating the calling of a National Convention is moved, not so much by a desire to relieve the States of the South of the burden under which they groan as to fix upon our people by a preponderance of Northern votes in the Convention the carpet-bag debts which they have long ago determined never to pay until forced by the decree of courts having jurisdiction to enforce payment. The purpose of the Herald is to get them into Convention, commit them to certain proposition favorable to them in their present impoverished and depressed condition and then commit them to the payment of what we know as the special tax bonds by a vote purely in the interest of the Northern bondholder.

We beg to be excused. The evils we bear are grievous enough, but we have no desire to fly to those we wot not of. They may be still more burdensome and annoying, and until we know better their character we prefer those that now are here.

Upon this subject the Richmond Enquirer has the following admirable reflections, which, while differing from those of the Journal correspondent, reach the same conclusion:

We have not attributed to the New York Herald the sordid and unworthy motives in its advocacy of a Na tional Convention that some of our contemporaries charge it with. It disposed to be sensational undoul edly, but it is always conducted with marked ability, and possesses much political sagacity. As a proof of this, its articles on Cæsarism, when they first appeared, were very generally hooted at and denounced as intended merely to produce a sensation, but the country has since learned that the idea of a third term has for a long time been seriously contemplated by

Grant and his special admirers. The Herald's mental vision has never been obscured by that intemperate party zeal that has characterized the larger portion of the North-ern press, and therefore it begins to discover that the cloud which has so long hung in the Southern sky and cast its malign shadow over all that once happy land is travelling northward. It is terrified at the prospect, sounds the alarm, and cries out for a National Contention, with the hone National Convention, with the hope of averting the great calamity which threatens its own section; but its hopes are vain, and all of its efforts in that direction are destined to prove fruit-We believe that sin and crime draw after them their own retribution, in obedience to an inevitable and unchangable divine law, which applies to nations and individuals

The North has perpetrated the most atrocious and revolting crimes in its dealings with the South; crimes that have no parallel in history, ancient or modern, and it would be strange indeed if the sword of Nemesis failed to seek out and cleave the great criminal, even to the "dividing asunder of the joints and marrow." In the approaching shadow let the North-e'n people behold the fieud of despotism, with all the attendant horrors of responsible personal government, pression. Let them behold the grim igure of social disorganization, followed by repudiation and financial ruin, and whilst they tremble they torture their Southern brethren

If in their blind and cowardly fury they imagined that they could disrupt society in the South, elevating imorance and vice and depressing intelligence and virtue; that they could destroy free government, set up despotisms in its stead in eleven States over to be bankrupted by adventurers and robbers from all quarters of the earth, and not feel the shock in their own financial centres, they will soon discover their mis-take, for the time is fast approaching when the scales will fall from their eyes, and the delusion will vanish.

What good, though, is to be expec ted from a convention at this time? Demagoguery rules in all the land, and the people, the source of all pow-es, are corrupt. Ben Butler, Morton, Hartranft, Tean Murphy, Landaulet Williams, and Wendell Phillips would be there from the North; Kellogg, Spencer, Scott, Rainey, Pinch-back, Clayton and company from the South would be there in all their lory, and what would be the result.
Will the creatures who thrive by corruption introduce reforms? the politician who owes his elevation ticensed vice and crime provide a means to eradicate these evils? Will the carpet-baggers and other Southern thieves, who live by duping the ignorant and the vulgar, help to elevate and refine their constituency Will that rare Ben Butler, and Mor-ton, the moral leper, who owe their eminence to the hatreds and the prejudices which the Northern masses entertain towards us, aid in the work of reconciliation, and thus throw down the ladder by which they hope to climb still higher? No; it is folly, worse than folly, to expect such things. Let us not deceive ourselves. Wilten constitutions are worthless, unless the principles of good government have a strong and sure foundation in the hearts and minds of the people. There can be no such thing as free government when the pecple disregard the great maxim, ered. When the submission of minorities to the will of majorities ceases to be voluntary, and is only enforced by the bayonet, that justant the government ceases to be Republican.

even as to the ruling majority, and becomes nothing more nor less than a mobocracy, with but one step be-tween it and personal despotic rule. The love of gain and the lust of power have superceded love of country, and the desire for honorable fame. The Beechers and Tiltons have debauched society and disgraced the church at the North, and if we ever return to first principles and pure government, the reformation must begin with the people and not with the government. The church and society must be purged and then we may hope for better things. Constitutional patchwork will neither work cure nor conceal the festering sores of the diseased and decaying body politic. Let the Herald take a diferent tack and preach repentance to its people, or expect the fate which their crimes have invited. Unless the true people of the South could go Convention as the equals of the Northern people they had better not be there. After all, our fate is in their hands, and they must bear all responsibility. Something About General Emory.

St. Louis, Sept. 19, 1874. To the Editor of the Times :- It may interest your readers to learn that Grant's satrap in New Orleans, Colonel and Brevet Major General W. H. Emory, was a "virulent and malignant secessionist" in the year of 1860. Being ordered to New Mexico in the latter part of 1860, or early in 1861, be left his resignation in the hands of his brother, a Marylander of strong Southern proclivities, to be tendered when Maryland should oin her fortunes with those of the South. When the Massachusetts troops were attacked in Baltimore, the brother thought that the proper time had arrived, and forwarded the resignation, which was accepted. On General (then Major) Emory's return to Washington, in May, 1861, he realized the fact that he could make a better thing of it for himself by hanging on to the army. He accordingly besieged President Lincoln, the war department, and everyone else that he thought could aid him, and after eating an immense amount of "humble pie" the acceptance of his resignation was reconsidered, and Emory was reinstated in the army. This is the man who so flippantly styles the best men of Louisiana, "insurgents" and "anarchists," because they made a manly effort to regain their liberties. Of such is the kingdom of Grant. "TRUTH."

The latest and most plausible plan brought forward for running streetcars in cities without the aid of horses is a foreign device, in which the molive power used is an arrangement of powerful springs, encased in cylinders like watch springs, of course on a very large scale, and the application of which to the cars now employed is said to be extremely simple and easy. These springs are wound up by small stationary steam engines at each terminus of the line, and when so wound up will propel the cars, even the stoppages, for a longer distance than any existing line of this kind extends. The action is reversible, the application of the brake power in every respect satisfactory, and the working of the whole thing is pronounced a success.

Beyond the regular characters 'Belle Lamar" at Booth's theatre Mr. Maurice Pike and other vocalists will appear as sentinels and camp men and sing several war songs of the rebellion times. Upon the rising of the curtain on the first act a Union soldier (Irish character,) on sentinel duty, is discovered pacing his beat on the banks of the Blackadder stream and singing a home song, of which the following is a verse:

Oh, why did I have the county Clare
To sail across the sea?
Oh, why did I have you, Mary Meagher,
Alone to plue for me
In far Kilkee?

The sky is blue, the land is fair. And goold, they say is plenty here; But oh! the blue of Mary's aye s blue than your South rn sky, And the goold I love is the goolden hair And the goold I love is the goolden has Of the fairest girl in the county Clare,

At its conclusion his Confederate opponent replies with "Maryland, My Maryland," to which the Union soldier listens with apparent pleasure. With the moon brightly shining so that the rebel fortification is plainly discernable in the perspective and the intervening water glistens as it may through the combre woods. it runs through the sombre woods, the scene is beautiful in the extreme and the incident is made as interestnig as it is relastic.

SCHENCE'S PULMONIC SYRUP, FOR THE GUMROF CONSUMPTION, COUGHS AND COLDS. Schencks's Sea Weed Tonic, for the Cure of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, etc. The Tonic produces a healthy action of the stomach, creating an appetite, forming chyle, and curing the most obstinate cases of Indigestion.

Schinck's Mandrake Pills, for the cure of Liver Complaint, &c. These pills are alterative, and produce a healthy action of the liver without the least danger, as they are free from calomel, and yet more efficacions in restoring a healthy action of the cious in restoring a healthy action of the liver.

These remedies are a certain cure for Consumption, as the Pulmonic Syrup ripens the matter and purifies the blood. The Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, creates a healthy bile, and remove all diseases of the liver, often a cause of Consumption. The Sea Weed Tonic gives tone and strength to the stomach, make a good digestion and enables the organs to form good blood; and thus creates a healthy circulation of healthy blood. The combined action of these medicines, as thus explained, will cure every case of Consumption, if taken in time, and the use of the medicines preserved in.

Seldom have we read a sweetor i lustration of the thoughtless and the experimental way of singing this precious hymn than that which is embodied in the following annymous verses, which we take from an exchange

"Rock of Ages, cleft for me," Thoughtiessly the maiden sung,
Fell the words anconsciously
From the girldish tongue;
Sang as little children sing;
Sang as sing the birds in June;
Feil the words like light leaves down
On the current of the tune—
"Rock of Ages, c.eft for me,
Let me hide myself in Thee,"

Let me hide myself in Thee, Felt he nide myself in Thee,"
Felt her soul no need to hide,
Sweet the song as song can be—
And she had no thought beside,
All the words unheedingly
Fell from hips untouched by care, breaking not they each might be On some other lips a prayer-Rock of Ages, cleft for me, Let me hide myself in Thee."

Thack of Ages, cleft for me"— Twiss a woman sung them now, saig them slow and wearily— Wan hand on her aching brow, ats weary wing the air. Every note with sorrow stirred-Rock of Ages, cleft for me, Let me hide myself in Thee.'

"Rock of Ages, cleft for me," Sun. above a coffin-lid; Underneath, all restfully, All life's joys and sorrows hid Nevermore, O storm-tossed soul! Nevermore from wind or tide, Will thou need to hid Could the sightless, sunken eyes, Closed beneath the soft gray hair; Could the mute and stiffened lips Move again in pleading prayer, till, age still the words would be, 'Let me hide my self in Thee."

Estimates of Crop Prospects, &c.

Since our last issue, we have traveled a great deal in North Carolina and Virginia, for the purpose of ascertaining something of the growing grop of tobacco, and, if possible, to form some estimate of the crop. From what we saw and heard, and from what our correspondents write us, we re led to believe that in most of the counties around and near Danville, which includes the border and other counties in Virginia and North Carolina, that it will vary from 40 to 50 per cent, of a full crop. The country for 25 or 30 miles around South Bos an extraordinary late and favorable season. some of the first plantings are ton, Halifax county, Virginia, both in Virginia and North Carolina, 50 to 60 per cent.; from Meherrin depot, on either side of the railroad, to Coalfield, 13 miles of Richmond, 30 to 40 per cent.; for the States of North Carolina and Virginia, 35 to 45 per We do not think it will come under 35, or go over 45, unless As to quality, of fine size, and looking remarkably well. As yet there has been very few worms, (though slightly injured by grasshoppers) and it is not probable that the planters will allow them to necrease, but will use extra exertions to destroy them while young. It is, therefore, reasonable to suppose that have but little worm-eaten and a portion of the first large and leafy. We estid of good leafy tobacco two-thirds of what the whole weigh out, the balance, or rd, green and dark leaf, with on few lugs, therefore it is natural to suppose that there will be a defl-ciency in leafy fillers and smokers. To commence the new tobacco year, will have fair stocks of leaf in the tobacco centres, with some g off in the smaller markets. ocks in the larger markets will bly be of shipping grades, as the s making shipping tobacco are ewnat later in coming forward is season, though when it did comience, the high prices influenced eavy receipts. The stock already inpected, and likely to remain over om last year's crop, will proba-ly be of nondescript and medium Dark and red fillers, y medium, bright, thin leaf, brown nd red air and fire-cured wrappers. the bulk of the uninspect ed tobacc some fine crops of English hipping and continental, and red manufacturing crops. The latter rops stripped, of the portion suitaole for wrappers, leaving mostly the medium grades, with the lesser proportion of lugs. With the stock neld over by planters and dealers, and the growing crop, we estimate Virginia inspecions for the next year at from 35,000 to 45,000 light hhds., and probably a the in excess of the latter figures or it must be borne in mind that the logsheads will be lighter, from force of circumstances, as wrapping tobac co is not usually prized very hard, a greater portion, ranging from 500 to lugs, but few planters will make enough for a heavy hogshead. For shipping purposes, there will be deriency in the grade of uniform short obacco, the packages being too light for that purpose, thereby forcing the short tobacco either on the manufacturer, rehandler, or shipper, the sections usually furnishing stripping grades will be slow in sending forward their crops, as early sales this eason having proved ruinous. The apposition is, that this grade will be marketed later in the season, and in safe order, and unsuitable for stripping purposes. A portion of such grades that are usually put into strips, will be thrown on the market later in the season in English and continental orders. The greater por-we will say, that for next crop, as to the manufacturing portion of it, a moderate supply of wrappers to work up the stock of fillers that is supposed will be carried over. Such stocks, if manufactured, will make medium to good grades of plug, and only light packages of the late plantings for stemming rehandling and low grade manufacturing. Thus we will have fair stocks of medium good and fine grades, (should our manufactuer be able to work it will depend, to some extent, upon the demand from the West and Canada,) but of the stocks of low rades, it is extremely doubtful whether the demand can be supplied.

tion of the latter will be wanted and competed for by manufacturers for black wrappers. To condence this article, and make a long story short,

The consumers of which will take the medium grades, thereby causing great activity in that quality, which will influence a stiffning in prices on the good and fine grades. Our readers will bear in mind that we are all hable to err. In the above we have tried to set forth not only our own views, but those of many prominent dealers, manufacturers, planters and warehouseman. Last, but not least, we find them always ready and willing to furnish all desired information, and always treating us exceedingly courteous, often answering many vexatious questions with pleasure We herewith record the warehousemen of Virginia and North Carolina nice, live, clever business gentlemen, worthy of the support and patronage of all planters.

PITTSBORO, Sept. 23rd, '74. Dear News :- I send you a line in reference to news and things over here, at the present session of our Court. It was promptly opened on Monday, and largely attended. The change from the old season in November to the pleasant days of September is highly appreciated. In old times, it was almost invariable a time of rain and wind, and chilly winds. and Pittsboro's day, be it re-membered has therein capabilities for mud of the first degree.

The venerable Judge's first charge to the Grand Jury is highly spoken of as an able and forcible effort and law, many were the expressions of graification that this noble son of Chatham, should occupy the seat filled by so many great and good men of the olden days.

There are thirty-five cases on the criminal docket, and about sixty civil cases. This will keep the Court busy all the week, unless there are many continuances, which may be the case. The State cases are all trifling in character-there is no felony whatever, we learn—only some matters of a little "friendly" fighting, reminis-cences of hard cider. In addition to these there are several cases of uncareful addition to the population of our good county, chiefly of "African

F. N. Strudwick, Esq., the new Solicitor, has made a very favorable im-pression. His manner and courteous bearing recall the traditions of his illustrous ancestry, and the people are pleased with his appearance, and the promise of efficient service at his hands.

Among the members of the Bar from abroad, we have Col. L. C. Ed-wards, of Granville, who is winning many friends here; the talented Maj. McRae, of Fayetteville, and Mr. Barringer, of Greensboro. The late Judge A. W. Tourgee has also returned, this time to practice his profession at the Bar. There is no doubt he will obtain quite a share of the legal business here. The members of his party have profound confidence in him, and he is regarded by them as the best of all the Republican Judges, Pearson and Settle only excepted. Our local Bar, though limited in number, is strong with the people, and it is rare that any case, however important, goes out of their hands. The Hon. John Manning is regarded as without a superior in the State, and Henry A. London, Jr., the energetic Chairman of the Conservative Executive Committee of this District, exhibits talent and industry that will inevitably lead to the highest honors of his profession. The vete-ran lawyer, and indomitable leader of the Democracy of olden times, Gen. J. Jackson, is well known to you, and so too is John Moring, Esq., recently re-elected to the House, after the flattering compliment of a two-thirds vote in the non-nating Coavention on the first ballot. Messrs.

M.Q. Waddell, Maj.R. W. York, Benj.
I. Houze, Esq., and Jas. H. Headen, Esq., are also as well known to the people of Raleigh as at home. Mr.
Headen has many warm personal friends, and ran about forty votes ahead of his ticket in the contest for Congress, in his immediate neighborhood. But Chatham, while recognizing his many admirable quali-ties, felt constrained to cast her vote for pure government, and the Hon. I. I. Davis

Among the visitors at this term of the Court, is the Hon. J. H. Haughton, of Newbern, whom his many friends here are glad to greet after a long absence. All who are familiar with the political history of the State are aware that Mr. Haughton was on many occasions the eloquent spokesman of our people in the Legislature, and they hope that North Carolina will yet receive the benefit of his ripe judgment and great learning in a po-sition he is so thoroughly fitted to adorn. Our citizens seem cheerful, although their great crop, the wheat, was almost a total failure. The corn is promising, and in some sections a good deal of cotton has been made. There are fears of an early frost upon that, however. Corn is now impossible to obtain. There has been no meal for sale in this town for several weeks past, and although high prices. there is literally no corn to be bought anywhere.

On the subject of the Convention, your position is fully endorsed. Your correspondent enquired yesterday of many leading gentlemen from various sections, and with the exception of one or two gentlemen about the county-seat, there is unanimous opposition to the measure at present. But a good many qualify their oppo-sition by the declaration that if in January, the Supreme Court decide against the validity of the amendments made, that it will become necessary to have the Convention, and that the Legislature should certainly have an adjourned session, if neces-sary, to have the situation fully within control. The NEWS is complimented and commended for its prompt and man-ly stan I on this question. * * *

Prospectus of 2nd Volume,

NEWBERN, N. C., August 10, 1874.

Newbern, N. C., August 10, 1874.

"Our Living and Our Dead" will heresfeer be published as a Nemi-Monthly Magazine, containing 48 pages of reading matter, at $3 per year in advance.

For the information of those who are not familiar with this enterprise, I state that the chief object of the Magazine will be to publish the Becord that North Carolina and fier gallant soldies made in the late "War between the States," to gather the material for the use of the future historian, and to perpetuate the memory of those brave men, officers and privates, living or dead, who shed imperishable glory upon their native State.

In addition to the War Recordor North Carolina, the Magazine will contain sketches of every section, county, city and town of the State, written by competent and well-informed persons, thus making it pre-eninently a State periodical, in which all classes of our citizens should take interest and pride.

The Magazine will take the place of the all classes of our citizens should take interest and pr de.

The Magazine will take the place of the newspaper, having same title, published by me during the past twelve months.

The first number will be issued Wednesday, September 9th, 1874. In the meantime, I respectfully ask old subscribers who desire to renew their subscriptions, and all others who wish the Magazine, to remit promptly, as the change and improvements require considerable outlay, and ready money is needed.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Four new Granges have been recently organized in Ashe county by Deputy Thos. H. Robinson.

Salisbury is distressingly healthy, at least such is the opinion of the doctors and druggists of the city. Dr. J. H. Montgomery, of Concord, died at his residence in that town of dropsy of the heart on Thursday

Salisbury has a dramatic club that is giving highly interesting enter-tainments to the citizens of that good old town.

The Jefferson (Ashe county) Mesenger man has been presented with a cucumber three feet, six and a half inches in length. " How is that for a cucumber?"

Miss Finley Nye and Phelix Patrick of Ashe county, went out sna-king a few days ago and succeeded in killing twenty-three rattlesnakes in a few minutes and it was not a good day for snakes eitler. J. W. Goslen, Esq., has become the editor of the Winston Union-Repubparagraph of which reads: "We cordially extend the hand of friendship to gentlemen of the Press, and hope by a courteous regard for the opinions of all—those with whom we agree as well as those with whom we disagree politically—to secure the esteem of the fraternity. Relying upon the unerring, honest, calm pubic approval of all moderate men and Republicans of this Judicial District for support, we commit our cause to the public."
